

Class Nine Clay Heads Main Lesson

The Class Nine Clay Head Main Lesson has been an ongoing and significant part of the school curriculum for many years and each year the students rise to meet this highly complex task.

Through the work of the hand, the will is directly engaged, and the commitment and determination is evident in the work they produce.

This year both class nine groups have completed some wonderful clay heads which will soon be fired to a rich terracotta.

Jess Jarvie, High School Art/Craft

Process of Transformation

